Welcome to Krishnavya Designs

"In the quiet grace of Lord Krishna's world, even a single thread becomes divine when woven with intention."

Every story begins with a moment of truth. For us, it began in a space filled with fabric, light, and an unspoken longing when designer Aparna Kyal felt that the beauty she created through fashion could be something more. Something deeper. Something that carried the gentle blessings and artistic spirit reminiscent of Krishna himself where creativity flows without force, and beauty arises from devotion.

What began as simple sketches slowly blossomed into handcrafted embroidered frames, each carrying a quiet echo of bhava emotion, feeling, soul. Every motif is stitched with thoughtfulness, much like how Krishna turned the simplest melodies of his flute into timeless stories. At Krishnavya, we honour India's artisan legacy through the hands of our master karigars artisans who have dedicated their lives to perfecting this sacred craft. Their fingers move with a rhythm shaped by tradition, their patience reflecting a devotion that cannot be rushed. Each stitch is a prayer, each frame a blessing. When you welcome a Krishnavya piece into your home, you welcome far more than décor. You welcome: A living tradition carried by generations, an artwork shaped with intention and purity, a symbol of grace inspired by India's spiritual heritage.

As you explore this catalogue, may you feel the calm of slow-made art, the warmth of human hands, and the gentle divinity that inspires our name. This is our offering where heritage meets heart, where design becomes devotion, and where every stitch speaks of India's spirit and Krishna's grace.

The Soul Behind Krishnavya:

"Every creation begins with a feeling and finds its form in devotion."

Krishnavya was born from a simple truth: beauty becomes meaningful only when it carries soul. What began as Aparna Kyal's quiet love for textiles soon grew into a vision to bring the intimacy of handcrafted embroidery into spaces that hold our lives, memories, and moments. Guided by India's timeless aesthetic and the gentle grace associated with Krishna's world, Krishnavya stands for art that comforts, blesses, and beautifies. Here, every thread is chosen with intention, every design with purpose, and every frame with love. We create slowly, thoughtfully, and with deep respect for the hands that bring our art to life.

Hands That Weave Devotion

Where human hands meet divine patience, a quiet world unfolds.

In the world of fine embroidery, time slows down. Hands move with gentle certainty, threads warm between the fingers, and sequins each cut by hand catch light like tiny blessings. This craft cannot be rushed; every stitch waits for the right breath and the right intention.

Our artisans carry knowledge shaped by generations. They know the sound of silk when it's pulled too tight, the angle at which zari begins to glow, the rhythm that turns a motif into something alive. We work with raw silk, natural fabrics, gold-toned threads, and stones chosen for purity and grace. Each piece is shaped slowly, with care that lingers in every curve and shimmer. In this quiet world between needle and thread, our creations are born not as objects, but as heirlooms.

Every stitch holds a blessing for the home it will one day adorn.

Art that speaks softly, yet lingers deeply

Where Your Story Becomes Art

"From thought to thread a journey guided by devotion."

Every bespoke piece begins with a conversation. You share a theme, an energy, a story you want transformed into art. From there, we help you discover the right palette, fabrics, and materials choices made with intention, harmony, and your space in mind. As your vision takes shape, our karigars begin their quiet work. Stitch by stitch, they bring depth, texture, and emotion to the design, crafting with the patience and prayer that define every Krishnavya creation. Once the embroidery reaches its final form, the piece is framed, finished, and polished with care ready to enter your home as a blessing, an heirloom, and a reflection of your story.

Every stage unfolds with sincerity, precision, and the artistry that lives at the heart of our craft.
